

To Whom It May Concern:

I'm a flight Attendant and have been in the airline industry for the past 3 years. In my experience the travelers look for convenience when they flight in bussiness but also for comfort and relaxation. Having the passengers talking on the phone when the space between the seats and themselves is so limited is not a convenience but a hassle to all around them. Also we have to think about the privacy of the callers or cellphone users which will be close to none talking around all the other passengers.